You have options for removable partial dentures

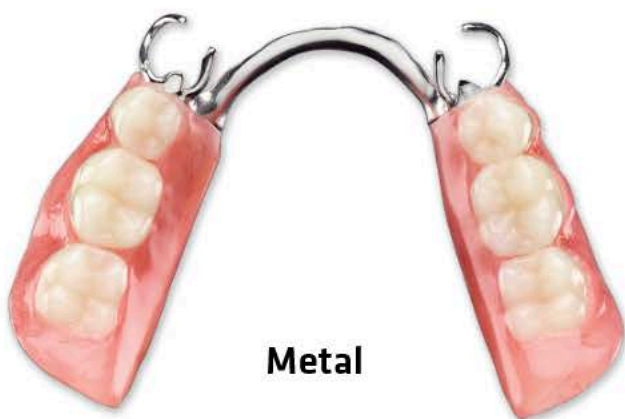

Missing teeth can compromise daily life — robbing you of the ability to eat comfortably, speak clearly, and smile confidently. Removable partial dentures fill in the gaps where you have missing teeth.

A metal partial denture has historically been prescribed. However, patients complain that they're heavy, uncomfortable, and look unnatural. Other non-metal partial denture options are flimsy and lack support. Now, there's an alternative that offers both the comfort and aesthetics you deserve: a partial made with Ultaire® AKP.

Patients prefer Ultaire[®] AKP partials¹

Recent market research showed that patients were dissatisfied with their metal removable partial dentures and preferred Ultaire[®] AKP partials.
